Email list popup connected to home (button)

Fill in each box for names and email address.

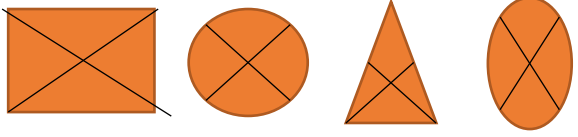

Blue button is for confirmation and the X is to exit and return to home.

The image shows a rectangular popup window with a green border. In the top-left corner is a clipboard icon with a checklist. In the top-right corner is a close button represented by an 'X'. The main area contains two rows of input fields. Each row starts with a person icon, followed by a rectangular box for a name, then an envelope icon, and finally another rectangular box for an email address. At the bottom right of the popup is a solid blue rectangular button.
